Paediatric Critical Care has made amazing advances in last few years. It is to the credit of these advances that now there is hope for many critically ill children as well as many preterm babies.

We at Jaslok Hospital, Mumbai are organizing a Paediatric Intensive Care CME on 17th August to reaffirm the importance of Critical Care in management of sick children. We also propose to address the key issues of when to assign a sick child to Critical Care and how to transport such a child to the designated PICU. This will help the practicing pediatrician greatly to deliver the best possible care to the patient under his/her care. This CME is also aiming to prime the Post-Graduates and young Paediatricians to the art and craft of Paediatric Intensive Care.

On behalf of the Paediatric Intensive Care unit, Dept. Of Paediatrics, we invite you to participate and share your views in this forum
